Explanatory note

This is a non-selective hustings, organised in line with Electoral Commission guidance.

As a small-scale hustings event, it was impracticable to invite all political parties contesting the election. As such, in adherence to the aforementioned guidance, the organisers have instead invited parties from across the political spectrum based on local electoral prominence and recent election results. The audience will be informed of other parties participating in the election that were not invited.

Invited candidates will be given comparable time to answer questions and reasonable opportunity to address points raised against them by other candidates.
